For 501st approval:

- All areas of exposed skin are painted red.

- While the Sith tattoo patterns on the arms, legs, lekku, and back tend to vary from one reference image to the next, there is a consistent and well established tattoo pattern on the face, chest, and stomach.
- These consistent patterns are to be reproduced as accurately as possible, while the rest may be interpreted by the costumer based on reference images.

- The plain black boots have low heels or no heels at all.
- Formfitting thigh-high boots may be worn, or the costumer may wear shorter boots paired with fabric or leather leggings that reach to the upper thigh.
